

Thank you very much for this opportunity. We, RICOH, would like to submit the following comment for the version 2.0 draft test method revision.

RICOH's comment:

Page	Line #	Draft spec language	RICOH's comment
8 of 18	130-135	D) Service/Maintenance Modes: a) Service/Maintenance modes shall be disabled prior to testing. b) Manufacturers shall provide instructions detailing how to disable service/maintenance modes if this information is not included in the product documentation packaged with the UUT or is not readily available online.	Please remove the following section: Manufacturers shall provide instructions detailing how to disable service/maintenance modes if this information is not included in the product documentation packaged with the UUT or is not readily available online. Reason: There are some products for which disabling such service/maintenance modes are very difficult (or sometime impossible to disable), and this requirement would create unfair disadvantage.