ENERGY STAR COMMERCIAL KITCHEN EQUIPMENT SHARE YOUR STORY!

Does your organization use or promote ENERGY STAR certified Commercial Food Service (CFS) equipment? If so, share your story and help inspire others to make the switch to more energy-efficient equipment.

We know that dealers and operators like you are dedicated to reducing your organization's environmental impact by reducing greenhouse gases and pollution, so we want to hear from you. Please share your story of how you incorporated ENERGY STAR certified CFS equipment into your operations or your showroom and the benefits you experienced.

For sharing your story, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will send you an ENERGY STAR Certificate of Recognition. This certificate can be put on display to demonstrate your commitment to the environment to your patrons and staff. You may also communicate about your recognition on your website, via press releases, or other vehicles. EPA will provide language to assist you in your communication efforts.

EPA will post some of the stories on the ENERGY STAR website and may also showcase them on ENERGY STAR's Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube pages. So share your story and inspire others!
